7. Disposing of Personal Information and Method of Disposal

Unless required otherwise by laws and regulations, the Company disposes of personal information of customers without delay after accomplishing the purposes of collecting and using personal information. Followings are the procedures and methods of disposal

1) Procedures of disposal

Once the purposes of collecting and using personal information provided by customers to the Company are accomplished, the information should be moved to separate database (to a separate filing cabinet for hard copies). The information will be stored for a certain period and then destroyed according to internal policies and reasons for information protection by related laws and regulations (refer to the period of possession and use). Personal information moved to separate database will not be used for purposes other than the purpose of storing the information.

2) Method of disposal

Personal information stored in an electronic document format will be deleted, and the destruction should be irreversible. Printed copies of personal information should be burned or shredded by a paper shredder.

8. Rights of Customers and their Legal Representatives, and Method of Exercising the Rights

1) Customers or their legal representatives (for children under 14) can withdraw their consent (cancel their membership) on the collection, use and provision of personal information to the Company.

2) Customers or their representatives (for children under 14) can request to the Company access, provision and correction of errors of their personal information (or that of customers under 14 in the case of legal representatives).
3) Customers can exercise the above said rights either online or offline: Customers can visit the Company’s website, verify their identification, and click the personal information setting menu; or customers can contact the Company’s customer center or the Company’s employee in charge of personal information management by mail, phone or email.

4) When requested by customers to correct errors with their personal information, the Company does not use or provide the said personal information until correction is completed. In cases where the personal information is already provided to a third party, the Company will immediately send a notice to the third party to correct the error.

5) If customers or their legal representatives withdraw consent (cancel membership), the Company should destroy the information without delay in principle. However, if required by laws and regulations, the Company should handle the information as per the ‘Period of Possessing and Using Personal Information’ under Privacy Policy and should allow access to or use of the personal information only when such access or use is really needed.

9. Matters related to Securing the Safety of Personal Information
※ Technical and administrative measures to protect personal information

For the safety of personal information of customers during processing, the Company applies following technical and administrative measures to prevent loss, theft, leakage, falsification or damage to the information.

1) Technical measures

① Encryption of customer information

   Personal information of customers is encrypted and stored in database so that it cannot be used by outsiders even in the case of leakage by intrusion

② Networking Encryption

   When customers signup or login on the website, the information they entered is safely transmitted through SSL.

③ Installation of security solutions

   Vaccine programs are installed on the personal information processing system, and the system is updated and maintained on a regular basis for safe services as well as the safe management of customer information. In addition, database encryption solutions and screen capture prevention solutions are applied. Intrusion blocking/detecting systems are installed, and the integrated security control center keeps monitoring to prevent hacking and intrusion.

2) Administrative Measures

① Development of personal information management system
The Company internally developed and operates a personal information management system for the safe management of personal information.

② Operation of the privacy protection committee
The Company organized a privacy protection committee and holds a committee meeting for twice or more a year to resolve issues related to privacy protection and the operation of the personal information management system.

③ Management of personal information controller
The Company requires personal information controllers to sign and submit a privacy pledge and provides them with privacy protection trainings for twice or more a year to safely manage customer information. In addition, the Company controls the authority level of personal information controller to minimize unnecessary access to and exposure of the personal information of customers.

10. Matters Related to the Installation, Operation and Rejection of Automated Personal Information Collection System
